

Acknowledgement of using Customers shipping account

Our Company is using our shipping account as the default shipping method to ship product(s) to Customers.

If Customers prefer to use their own shipping account:

1. We accept customers' UPS, FEDEX accounts. The default shipping method will be based upon Customers' selected method and insurance is included. Please specify on each PO if you decide to waive insurance.
2. Shipping by FEDEX or Ground may subject to one or two days pre-arrange pick up time.
3. Our inventory changes rapidly. For orders include Moxa's items we will ship them directly from the urgent fulfillment center and the default shipping method is two days or faster air shipment. For Ground shipping there could be two extra days for warehouse transfer from urgent fulfillment center to regular warehouses.
4. The same item in multiple quantities could potentially be shipped partially from various locations in multiple shipments.
5. Multiple items on the same PO could potentially be shipped partially from various locations in multiple shipments.
6. Customer is liable to pay for shipping, handling, applicable taxes and custom duties that apply.

Please acknowledge by signing and returning this page to your sales representative.

We appreciate your business.

Company Name:

Address:

Telephone:

Email:

Name:

Signature:

Date:

January 2015